NEWSPAPER.

THE SUN FOR 1880. THE SUN will deal with the events of the year stood by everybody. From January 1 to December 31 it will be conducted as a newspaper, written in the English language, and printed for the recoile.

people.

As a newspaper, THE SUN believes in getting all the news of the world promptly, and presenting it in the most intelligible shape—the shape that will enable its readers to keep well abreast of the age with the least improductive expenditure of the age with the least improductive expenditure of the age with the least na productive expenditure of time. The greatest interest to the greatest number—that is the law controlling its daily make up. It now has a circulation very much larger than that of any other American newspaper, and enjoys an income which it is at all times prepared to spend liberally for the benefit of its readers. People of all conditions of life and all ways of thinking buy and read The Sun; and they all derive satisfaction of some sort from its columns for they keep on buying and reading it.

In its comments on men and affairs, The Sun believes that the only guide of policy should be common sense, inspired by genuine Americans. In its comments on men and anairs, THE SUN believes that the only guide of policy should be common sense, inspired by gaustine American principles and backed by horiesty of purpose. For this reason it is, and will continue to be, absolutely independent of party, class, clique, organization, or interest. It is for all, but of none. It will continue to praise what is good and reprobate what is evil, taking care that its language is to the point and olain, beyond the possibility of being misunderstood. It is uninfluenced by motives that do not appear on the surface: It has no opinions to sell, save those which may be had by any purchaser with two cents. It hates injustice and reacality even more than it hates unnecessary words. It abhors frands, pittes fools and deployers uncomposes of every species. It will continue throughout the year 1889 to chastise the first class, instruct the second, and discountenance the third. All bonest men, with honest, convictious, whether senion or mistaken, are its felends. And THE SUN makes no bones of telling the truth to its friends and about its friends whenever occasion arises for plant speaking.

These are the prucuse upon when THE SUN.

whenever occasion arises for plain speaking.

These are the principle upon when The Sun will be conflucted during the year to come.

The year 1880 will be one in which no patriotic American can afford to close his eves to public affairs. It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of the political events which it has in slore, or the necessity of resolvite vigilance on the part of every citizen who desires to preserve the Government that he founders gave us. The debates and acts of Congress, the nuterances of the press, the exciting contests of the Republican and Democratic parties, now nearly equal in strength throughout the country, the varying drift of public sentiment, will all bear directly and effectively upon the twenty-fourth Presidential election, to be held in November. Four years ago next November the will of the nation, as expressed at the polls, was thwarted by an abominable conspiracy, the promoters and beneficiaries of which still hold the offices they stole. Will the crime of 1876 be repeated in 1880? The past decade of years opened with a corrupt, extravagnat and insolent Administration intreuched at Washington. The Sun dissomething toward dislogding the gang and breaking is power. The same men are now intrigular to restore their leaders and themselves to places from which they were driven by the indignation of the people. Will they succeed? The coming year will bring the answers to these momentous questions. The Sun will be on hand to chronicle the facts as they are developed and to exhibit them clearly and featlessly in their relations to expediency and right.

Thus, with a sholt of philosophical good humor in looking at the minor affairs of life, and in great things a steadinst purpose to minimain the rights of the people and the principles of the Constitution against all aggressors, The Sun is prepared to write a truthful, instructive, and, at the same time, entertaining history of 1880.

Our rates of subscription remain unchanged. For the Daily Sun, a four-page sheet of fitty-six columns rhenever occasion arises for plain speaking.

These are the principles upon which THE SUN
rill be conducted during the year to come.

The Manufacturing Interests of Cincinnati are larger and more varied than those of Pittsburg, Chicago, St. Louis, or any other Western city. A large portion of the population is necessarily made up of the intelligent artisan class, who are thrifty and well to do, and therefore a class whom merchants find a profit in addressing. THE CINCINNATI

DAILY STAR

Offers special inducements to Advertisers desiring to reach this class of people. It publishes and circulates mere papers in Cincinnati and immediate vicinity than any other journal issned in this city. It is taken and read by people at THEIR HOMES; and for all classes of goods, where the Advertiser desires to reach the family, is more valnable, even in proportion to circulation, than a paper that is a favorite only in the counting-room. Its news covers the affairs of every day life, dressed up in such a manner as to be of special interest to the ladies; and its advertise. ments are therefore brought more canspicuously before them than is the case with any other paper in this city. For these reasons, and many others which we might cite, the STAR is an unequaled medium for
